DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Casey (USP 6,148,923).

With respect to claim 1, Casey discloses a resilient wiper element (40) for use within a string of wet pipe (wherein casing for a well is a wet pipe), wherein said resilient wiper element comprises a flexible sheet having finite thickness (see figure 1A), a bore extending through said flexible sheet (see figure 1A) and a rigid member (43) in proximity to said bore.

With respect to claim 2, Casey discloses that the rigid member extends completely around the bore (see figure 1).

With respect to claim 3, Casey discloses that the wiper element is substantially circular in shape (see figure 1A).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Casey in view of Haggard (RE 32,085).

With respect to claim 4, Casey does not disclose a wiper element that is notched. Haggard discloses a notched wiper element in order to permit substantial flexing (see column 5 line 53). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Casey by including a notched wiper element as taught by Haggard in order to have a wiper element which permits substantial flexing.

With respect to claim 5, Casey in view of Haggard teaches that the wiper element is constructed of at least one elastomer (see Casey column 5 lines 55-66).

With respect to claim 6, Casey in view of Haggard teaches that a washer (43) is integrally molded into said wiper element around said bore (see figure 1A).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection over Casey. In view of this new grounds of rejection, this rejection has been made non-final.
